

The data processing and interpretation were carried out by Geophysical Service International during the period January to June 1969. Conclusions derived in this interpretation are those of the author.