

2. This water top function is then modified on the basis of the RNMO. The result is a final water top function.
3. This final water top function is then converted to a final water bottom function (see formula in section F) which is input for final 1200% processing.