

The refraction lines were gain recovered through the True Amplitude Recovery process and gathered such that recordings from successive shots could be displayed adjacent to each other on the final plot. These gain recovered and gathered, refraction profiles were then scaled in an attempt to improve the quality of the first breaks.