

I.

ABSTRACT

A detailed marine seismic survey was conducted in the East Gippsland Basin Area to delineate structural leads obtained from a previous survey.

The final processed record sections show good quality reflection data which ties satisfactorily to previous work.