

the north and spread progressively southward, strongly fore-set and top-set and terminating on the continental slope. Sketch Across the Otway Basin - Fig. 24).

A spectacular angular unconformity over the entire basin is present between Mesozoic and Tertiary. In the offshore area the Mesozoic dips north whereas the Tertiary dips south.

The horst of the Otway Ranges began its progressive movement with the initial breakdown of the Tertiary.

* * * * *