

"B" Lead T-15-P (con't.)

The "B" lead is considered to be not very prospective because of its relatively small size and density of faulting in this portion of the basin. The presence of sealing faults, intraformational sealing shales and shales or fine clastics of source rock quality is doubtful. No additional acquisition of seismic data is planned for this lead at this time.