

The South Lily lead is mapped as a structural/stratigraphic closure along the Southern margin of the Basin and is similar type to Lily and Water Lily anomalies. More seismic is recommended over this anomaly.