

THE NAVSTAR GLOBAL POSITIONING SYSTEM (continued)

Furthermore, if the user has an accurate clock (cesium) available, then only two satellites are necessary for a position.

For improved accuracy in either fixed point or dynamic positioning, two receivers may be used in the differential mode to remove systematic errors.