

GWF9107.009-RJS

Due to its low hydrocarbon maturity it appears that the accumulation was the result of vertical migration from Late Cretaceous source rocks.

Maturity and source rock data from Pelican 1 together with the gas-condensate recoveries from FITs established the Pelican half graben as a major hydrocarbon source kitchen.