

- (ii) Tin recovery was also maintained at about 70% after 6 stages of rougher flotation as compared with 9 stages used in Test PC2/F11 under similar conditions except for the desliming stage introduced in this test.
- (iii) So far it appears that desliming of flotation feed is beneficial for tin flotation to achieve a better grade and recovery of tin rougher concentrate using either PTAA or SPA as collector.