

it is against pyrite.

Conclusion:

Recrystallized acid volcanic rock which is more likely to have been a pyroclastic than a lava flow. It contains some chloritic patches and crystals of apatite similar to those in S381 and it also has a little pyrite.