

Notes: Values shown are the highest abundance of Cu recorded in each set of ten adjacent soil samples. A point is used to designate the location of the highest value and a bar is used where the highest value is shared by two or more sites within the set of ten samples.

5 cm