

± sulphides ± barite ± tourmaline. Also, some samples recorded very high (greater than 1000 ppm) levels of both metals. These samples (e.g. 12223, 12264) were of magnetite veins, suggesting a possible genetic relationship between the mineralisation, the intense magnetite veining and the nearby Darwin Granite.