

2.

Hematitic pigmentation seems to have occurred during or after regional metamorphism and it is most pronounced in the vicinity of old fractures and veins. Incipient weathering is suspected.